To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to recommend to you Author Linda Rossetti Brocato and her amazing book Ivan Becomes a Hero. Mrs. Brocato recently spoke to over 250 elementary students in our school. She did a wonderful job of relating to our students and sharing her message of acceptance to one another's differences, as well as the pain of bullying. Based on her book's theme verse, "I am fearfully and wonderfully made," (Psalm 139:14) Mrs. Brocato was able to weave in the message of God's love through her story and her presentation. During the book signing, she took the time to speak with each child, and even signed a few autographs for students who were unable to purchase a book. I highly recommend this author to you, and we look forward to her return to our school in the future.

In His Service,

Mrs. Janet Simpson
